Final Withstanding Proclamation by Pocket

THE PRESUMPTION THAT

"I don't need privacy unless I Am hiding something."

IS, IN TRUTH, AN ADMISSION THAT

"You don't need a badge and gun between Verified Reports of Crime."

- James "Pocket" Gabriel

I REMAIN LAWFUL AND FREE; granted such orders without standing against my expressed, unassailable right.

This document constitutes the copyright-protected, intentional declaration of the artist/author/Creator. It is embedded with a self-evident promise to secure and offer to contract with every person or representative entity who lawfully, commercially, and spiritually witnesses the image and-either presently or since-has made any effort to interpret meaningful or inadmissible statements authored herein.

This declaration affirms that I exist in good faith, with integrity, without claim to controversy, and with the express purpose of standing as evidence of my authorship, truth, intention, and lawful condition.

© 2025 James "Pocket" Gabriel. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED WITH PREJUDICE - UCC §1-308.

This serves as a formal dismissal of all specific or enjoined claims-whether expressed by instruments, bills, or communications of inferior intent-and of those conducted in secretive or subversive use of language, with the intent to cause confusion, usurpation, or harm. Any and all such efforts made against my person, associations, or properties, whether for private or public gain, are hereby prejudiced and dismissed through de facto agreement. Such dismissal is self-evident upon the ponderance of penalty and is hereby enacted as of this Date: June 18, 2025.

Additional Meaning:

By observing this image and interpreting its intended message, the observer becomes a lawful witness. The Creator/Artist thereby establishes a perfected and secured covenant of authorship, proclamation, and standing-with lawful, philosophical, and spiritual effect-against all inferior claims under any investigation, unless evidenced by credible proof of injury or crime, duly affirmed by lawful process.

This covenant is established as a private right of authorship and publication. It is exercised under natural authority and constitutional affirmation. It is not delegated to the United States Federal Government, nor reserved by the State of Georgia, nor held by any independent agency, public office, private person, or corporate body. It is a covenant perfected by publication, executed by the Creator as an original and self-evident act of standing.
